Linda Padgett-Stinson, president and founder of 3-1-1 Travel Bag, is a lifelong travel enthusiast. Born in Atlanta, Ms. Stinson spent her childhood traveling all over the United States on her family's airplane, which was piloted by her father, an IBM executive.

At an early job as a bank loan officer in Pensacola, Fla., Ms. Stinson had a chance encounter with professional boxer and Pensacola native Roy Jones Jr. As a result, Ms. Stinson has served as Mr. Jones' executive assistant for the last 14 years, traveling all over the world and establishing relationships within the sports, entertainment and travel industries.

After the Transportation Security Administration issued the restrictions on liquids and gels in carry-on luggage, Ms. Stinson was frustrated with the hassle of trying to stuff all of her toiletries into a quart-sized plastic baggie during her frequent business trips.

Ms. Stinson began extensive research on the TSA regulations and the various other travel products on the market, and she saw an overwhelming need for a more convenient and stylish alternative. In a matter of months, she presented the TSA with the ultimate solution: The Clear Bag System.

The Clear Bag System is the first product launched from Ms. Stinson's newest company, 3-1-1- Travel Bag. It joins Travel-ing Inc., which Ms. Stinson founded in 2001 to provide personalized travel arrangements and solutions for high-end clientele.

Outside of her career, Ms. Stinson is very active in charitable organizations, including the Arc, Special Olympics and American Cancer Society. In her spare time, Ms. Stinson also enjoys going to the beach, gardening and of course, traveling.
